

This content brought to you by Travelers

Travelers discusses how to insure telecommunications

(SPEECH)

[MUSIC PLAYING]

(DESCRIPTION)

Text, Navigating the risks of innovation. Risk insights for telecommunications companies.

(SPEECH)

MITCH FOSTER II: When something happens, what's the first thing we do? We call someone. We go online. We check for breaking news. We'd be lost without telecommunications. I'm Mitch Foster II, telecom practice lead at Travelers. Telecom companies give us the communications backbone we rely on every day. They use a complicated web of hardware and software to create the systems that allow us to go online, talk on the phone, and watch TV.

The technology is constantly changing. Because we've been with this industry for 30 years, we understand it. We know how to provide the insurance protection that keeps up with the changes and lets telecom companies keep innovating. And because we're in every state, we can provide the national reach these companies need.

[PHONES RINGING]

(DESCRIPTION)

Satellites point out from a tower.

(SPEECH)

Uh-oh, got to go.

(DESCRIPTION)

Text, Travelers. It's better under the umbrella.